The screenshot shows a terminal window with a purple background. The user is performing several file operations. First, they attempt to change permissions on 'result.comp' but fail because the file doesn't exist. They then create the directory 'result.comp' and set permissions. Next, they attempt to set permissions on 'stock' but fail because it doesn't exist. They then create the directory 'stock' and set permissions. Finally, they list the contents of 'result.comp' and 'stock', both of which are empty. The terminal output is as follows:

ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ chmod u-w result.comp
chmod: cannot access 'result.comp': No such file or directory
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ ^C
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ mkdir result.comp
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ chmod u-w result.comp
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ chmod go+x stock
chmod: cannot access 'stock': No such file or directory
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ ^C
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ mkdir stock mkdirstock: command not found ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ mkdir stock
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ chmod go+x stock
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$ ls result.comp stock result.comp:

stock:
ubuntu@ubuntu:~$

At the bottom of the terminal window, there is a taskbar with various application icons including a web browser, a file manager, and a terminal. The text 'ter outside or press Ctrl+Alt.' is visible at the bottom left of the terminal window.
